JULIE EVANS / SALLY GALL

Evans's small and potently colorful paintings on panel bear swirly patterns, often made with the aid of a Spirograph, that recall Indian designs, mandalas, flowers, and celestial maps. They look brightly companionable with Gall's photographs, all taken in Central Park, of flowers and sky. Through May 5. (Saul, 535 W. 22nd St. 212-627-2410.)
